

Join Arctic Audubon at the Noel Wein Library Auditorium on Monday, November 14, 2022 at 6 PM
for a presentation on Lynx by Knut Kielland, UAF Biology Professor

Image by Bud Marschner

What lynx do when we are not watching (they think)

Innovations in tracking technology and analytical methods have allowed biologists to observe the ecology of lynx remotely in near real time. I will highlight the research conducted by my graduate students pertaining to new insights in lynx activity patterns, long-range dispersal movements, and behavior associated with kit rearing and territoriality.

